

Anne Frank's Iowa Connection – Few know it but the most famous face of the Holocaust had a pen pal in Danville, Iowa named Juanita Wagner. Anne sent a letter and a postcard from her vast collection to young Juanita. This has inspired the students of Danville schools to launch a postcard campaign.

Their goal is to collect 1.5 million postcards in remembrance of the 1.5 million Jewish children who died in the Holocaust.

It's a great project for classrooms across America to experience. They also hope to get postcards from abroad. Please tell another teacher about this amazing project today and help the kids in Danville reach their goal!

Send postcards to:

History comes alive with true stories written by children for children.

In 1940 Anne searched a map of Iowa and wrote she had a hard time finding Danville but she did find Burlington. Two teenage girls from Burlington wrote and illustrated a children's book about Anne's Iowa connection in 2012. Oceans Apart is published in the A BOOK by ME series. Book titles by area young authors are available at www.abookbyme.com.

Is there a young author willing to tell an important story in your school?
